

Animals Need Habitats

All over the world, animals live in habitats.
Animals survive by adapting to the kinds of food, shelter, and weather
in their habitats.

Fun Fact:

Polar bears have rough pads on their feet to keep them from slipping.

Polar bears are adapted to the cold North Pole, where they walk on chunks of ice to hunt seals for food.